

1925 PROGRAM OF COFFEE COUNTY BAPTISTS

(Same as Southern Baptist Program.)

1. EVERY MEMBER ENLISTED.

In the work and worship of the Church, in Sunday School, and other study in the Church, in winning the lost—with every member enlisted thus great things will be accomplished.

2. EVERY MEMBER GIVING.

a. To support of the local Church and its work. This means a Budget of local expenses of the Church and every member giving something to that.

b. To the great work of Missions and Benevolences as fostered by the Baptists of the State and the South. Coffee County Baptists' part in this great program is $10,000.00—or a little over $2.00 per member per year—or about 5 cents a week per member.

3. EVERY MEMBER CANVASED.

Many will not give if not asked to give. So the week of November 30th through December 7th has been set aside by Southern Baptists as Canvass Week. The Churches are to send out Committees that week to secure a promise for support of local work and South-wide work for one year. Remember, this will not be a five year pledge but a one year pledge.

NOTICE!

The undersigned has taken complete control of the Pope & Pinckard garage and has employed expert mechanics. All work guaranteed for a reasonable time. We will appreciate a share of your patronage.

The greatest builders in the world are those who build character. Men have built houses, roads and temples that have lasted for generations, empires that lasted for centuries, but those who build character fabricate something that will last to eternity.

Build into your character the foundation of industry, efficiency and economy. With these sincere's certain, which are the only things that bring out the best that is in us and drives out evil.

Those who attended the supper Saturday night at Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Tillman's reported a nice time.

Old Folks' Ailments

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago, and my experience with it stretched over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Baker, a Col. and former veteran, who is now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Texas. "It is the best laxative I know of for old people. A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas, I have used this medicine every now and then, and it has kept me in good health. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels, and keeps the natural way, and clearing the system, and relieving constipation. Sold everywhere.

INDIAN SKELETONS AND OTHER RELICS FOUND IN ALABAMA.

Moulton, Ala., Nov. 25.—Skeletons of more than 100 Indians were found in a mound which was excavated last week near here, according to Dr. Gerard Fewkes, representative of the Smithsonian Institution. The mound is believed to have been the work of the Cherokee Indians. Numerous copper beads, pottery and other relics were found. One tomahawk was pronounced the best of any in the collection.

Dr. Fewkes says the excavated mound was about 12,000 years old.

The co-operative movement was first introduced in 1844 by flannel weavers in Rochdale, England. It was intended to provide a means of relief from existing unemployment and high prices.

Ended Love Trail of Man Who Played Fair

Alexander loved the ladies and he played fair with them. That is, he always proposed to them.

"I am so sorry," said Helene, when he proposed to her. "So sorry, but you see I am engaged to George."

Helene said "yes" promptly, when he asked her, but she was surprised when he reminded her of it the next time they met.

"Surely you were not serious," she said. "Anyway, I was not."

Dolly cuddled close to him and whispered "yes"—but in the morning she had forgotten.

Anna Margaret promised to consider it and let him know, but she never did.

Mary Jane let him kiss her hand and she talked quite awhile about the beauty of love. The next week she moved away and left no address.

Henrietta was sure she could have loved him had she not already decided on a career.

Then, the pretty divorcee, cried and wished she had met him first—before she lost her faith in men.

Sally was a sweet little debutante, and he thought he might as well be her first sweetheart. Alas, he was not. He only thought he was—but he was her last, for she married him, and that was the last of Alexander. Well, just about the last.—Kansas City Star.

Many Legends Treat of Woman's Creation

Woman's first appearance has been a popular subject of legends. The Phoenician myth of creation is founded on the story of Pygmalion and Galatea. There the first woman was carved out of ivory by the first man, and then endowed with life by Aphrodite, says the Kansas City Star.

The Greek theory of the creation of woman, according to Hesiod, was that Zeus, as a cruel jest, ordered Vulcan to make woman out of clay, and then induce the various gods and goddesses to invest the clay doll with all their worst qualities, the result being a lovely thing.

The Scandinavians say that as Odin, Vili and Ve, the three sons of Bor, were walking along the beach they found two sticks of wood, one of ash and one of elm. Sitting down, the gods shaped man and woman out of these sticks, whitening the woman from the elm and called her Eir.

Dusting Off an Old One

The honored guest arose to speak, and was greeted with a cheer that shook the room. Some way or other, after that cheer, he never could get some of the guests seated down again. A half dozen or so of them insisted in talking loudly among themselves. The speaker could scarcely make himself heard. All at once, one man who had had more than enough to drink and had fallen asleep, began to snore loudly. There were laughs and the speaker looked greatly annoyed. Reaching for his gavel the toastmaster rapped upon the table for some semblance of order. But in his enthusiasm he rapped entirely too hard and the gavel broke in two. The piece bounced across the table and struck the sleeping member squarely on the head. He roused a bit, looked about him, and then shouted:

"Hit me again! I can still hear him!"—Journal American Medical Association.

Easy to See That

The young man in the old grandmother to a picture gallery, she had never been in such a place before and accordingly she was very critical of all that she saw. Together they wandered round looking at the paintings with interest.

Finally they stopped before a canvas which showed a man seated in a high-backed chair. Tucked to the frame was a small white card.

"What does it say on the card?" asked the old lady.

"A portrait of F. L. Jones, by himself," replied her grandson.

The old lady went closer to the picture.

"What folks these art people must be!" she muttered. "Any fool can see that this man is by himself; there's no one else in the picture."

All Things Possible

Nothing gave Mrs. Jones greater pleasure than to think she had secured a bargain.

She came home from a sale one day and displayed her purchases, one being a brass plate with the name "O'Halloran" on it.

"What on earth did you buy that for?" said her husband when he saw it.

"Well, it was so cheap," said Mrs. Jones. "I only gave a shilling for it, and I'm sure it must have cost two or three guineas."

"But why waste a shilling?"

"Oh," she said, airily, "you never know how things will come in. For instance, you might die and I might marry a man called O'Halloran."

FIRST THANKSGIVING was after the colonists in 1620 woke up to the grim fact in the summer, before their first plantings were any way near harvest, that their food had become exhausted and there remained only one pint of corn in all the settlement which consisted of seven little log huts.

The people were all called together and an equal distribution of five grains to each person was made. They had no other food, and three months passed away before they had either corn or bread to eat.

They were forced to live on shell-fish, berries, nuts, acorns, and anything they could find.

At the end of this period the harvest came and this is the ancient report of it: The corn yielded well and the barley was good, but the peas were a failure, owing to a drouth and late sowing."

Gov. Bradford sent out skilled sportsmen in quest of fowls that they might all rejoice together. Venison, wild turkey, birds and other game were brought back by the hunters and there, in the wilderness, the first Thanksgiving turkey was roasted, and three whole days were taken up in the feast and merry making.

Plymouth celebrated its 200th anniversary in 1820 and had placed at each plate 5 grains of corn for the guest to take home with him. When you sit down to your feast today, remember the first Thanksgiving and the 5 grains of corn and how God has blessed us!

We might sometimes be at a loss to know whether we are optimists or pessimists, but we have no doubt as to whether we are pessimists or not, especially when Mrs. Griffin has just sent us a Thanksgiving possum with potatoes to match. We hope every one of you will have a happy holiday.

The people in this community were shocked Friday afternoon when it was learned that Mr. John Carroll was dead. He died about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at his son's, Robert Carroll, heart trouble being the cause of his death. He has been very tight since the last of July. He was 55 years, 8 months and 8 days old. He was a good husband and father. A place is vacant in that home which can never be filled. He left his broken-hearted companion and eight children, all grown and married except four boys. Two of his sons did not get here for the funeral. We extend our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved family. He was laid to rest at Damascus cemetery Saturday afternoon. A large crowd of friends and relatives were present to pay their last respects.

Our box supper was just fine and we made about $73.00 to help on our church. The highest box brought $3.80. We thank all the girls for their help and especially the girls of Battens who brought boxes with them.
